Mission

The mission of the New Rochelle Police Department is to provide a professional community orientated police service designed to protect life and property and maintain order while assuring fair and equal treatment to all.

Vision

We will provide a quality police service that merits the public's trust and ensure the overall success and general welfare of the community.

Values

Ethics:

We will demonstrate integrity and honor in all our actions.

Valuing People:

We will treat everyone with dignity and respect, protecting the rights and wellbeing of others.

Loyalty:

We will be loyal to the community, to the Department, and its members, and to the standards of our profession.

Fairness:

Our decisions will be balanced—moral, legal and without personal favoritism.

Authority:

We recognize that our authority is derived from the people we serve.

Diversity:

We appreciate one another's differences and recognize that our unique knowledge, skills, abilities and backgrounds bring strength and character to our organization.

Commitment:

We believe that our time spent in the workplace should be devoted to the delivery of quality police services.

Conduct:

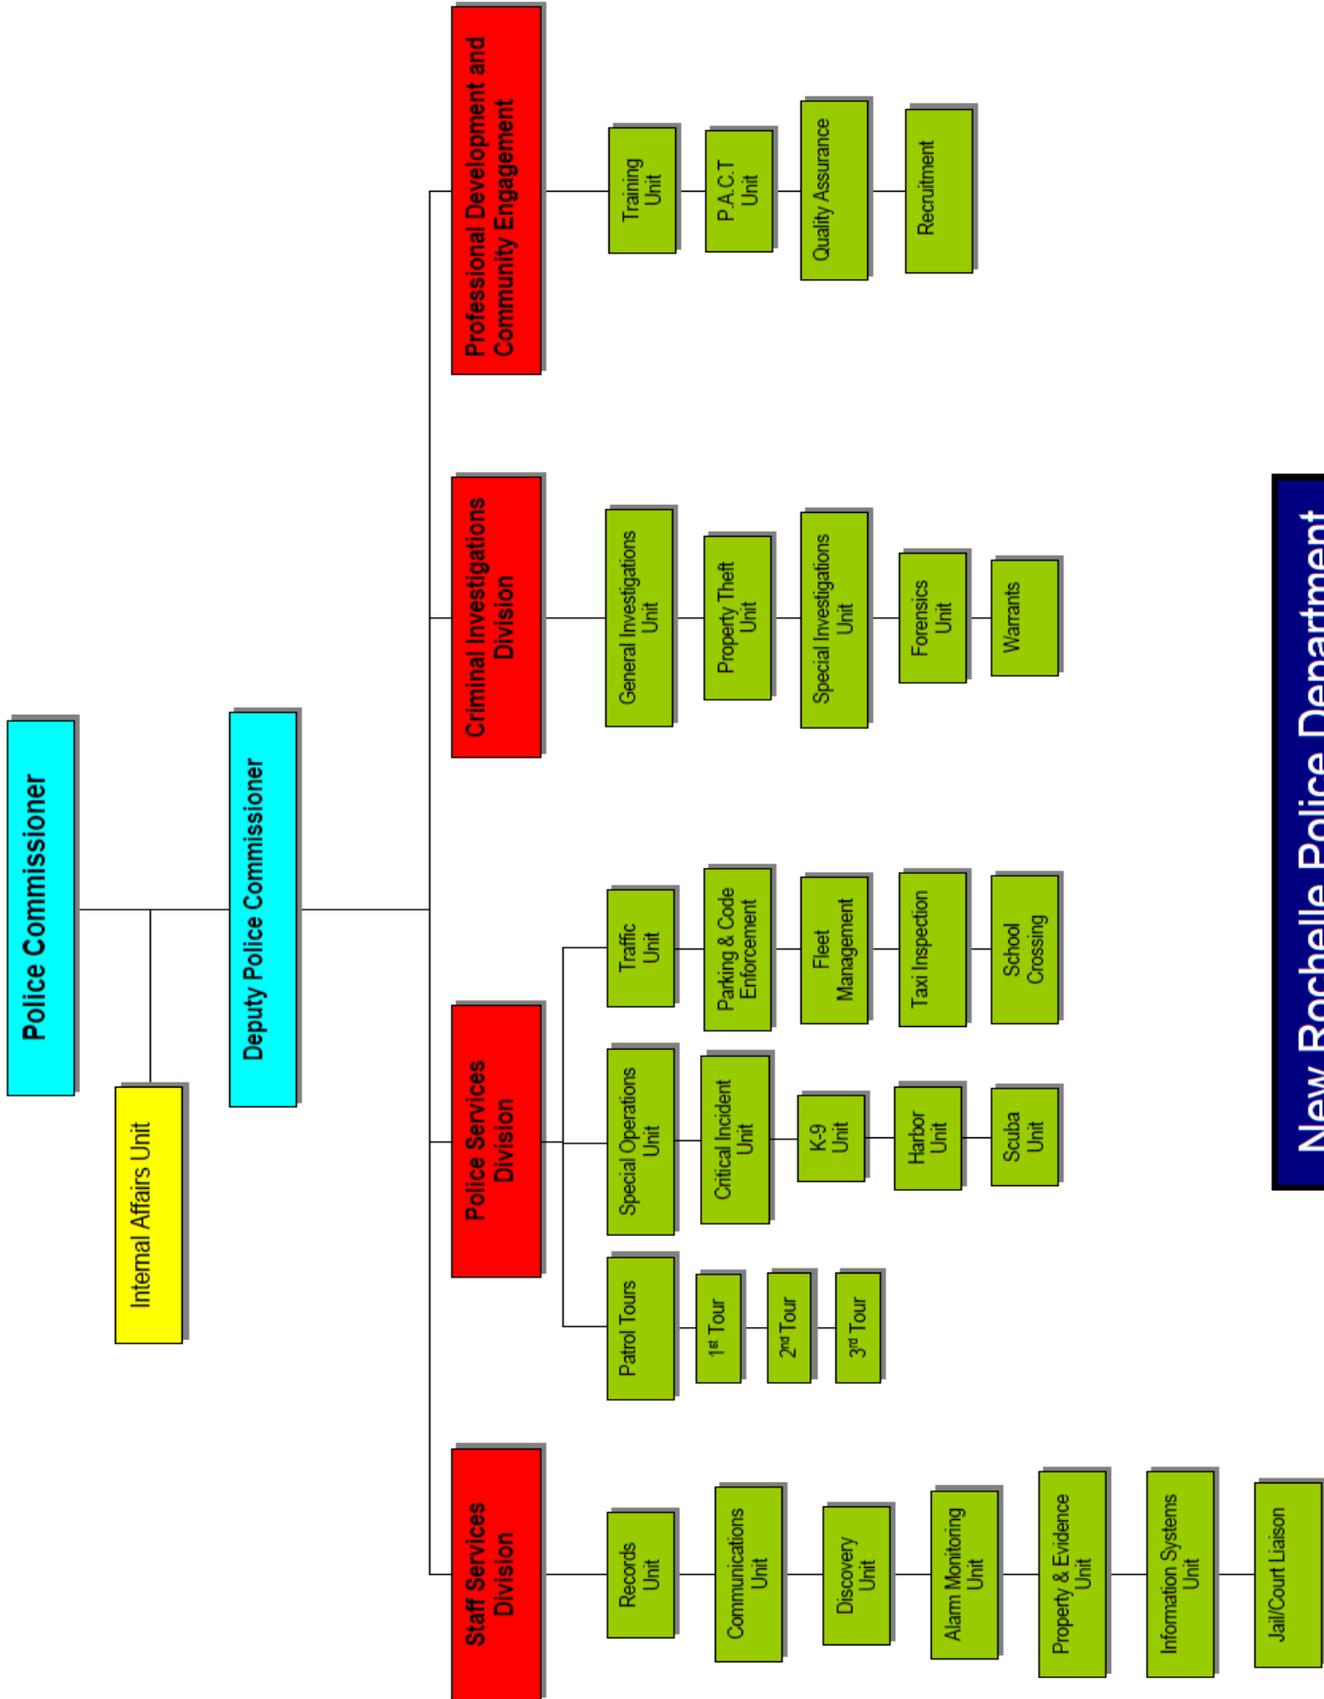

We recognize that our conduct, personal and professional, is inseparable from the reputation of the Department and must be moral, sober and judicious.

Performance:

We expect everyone to work to the best of their abilities.

Integrity:

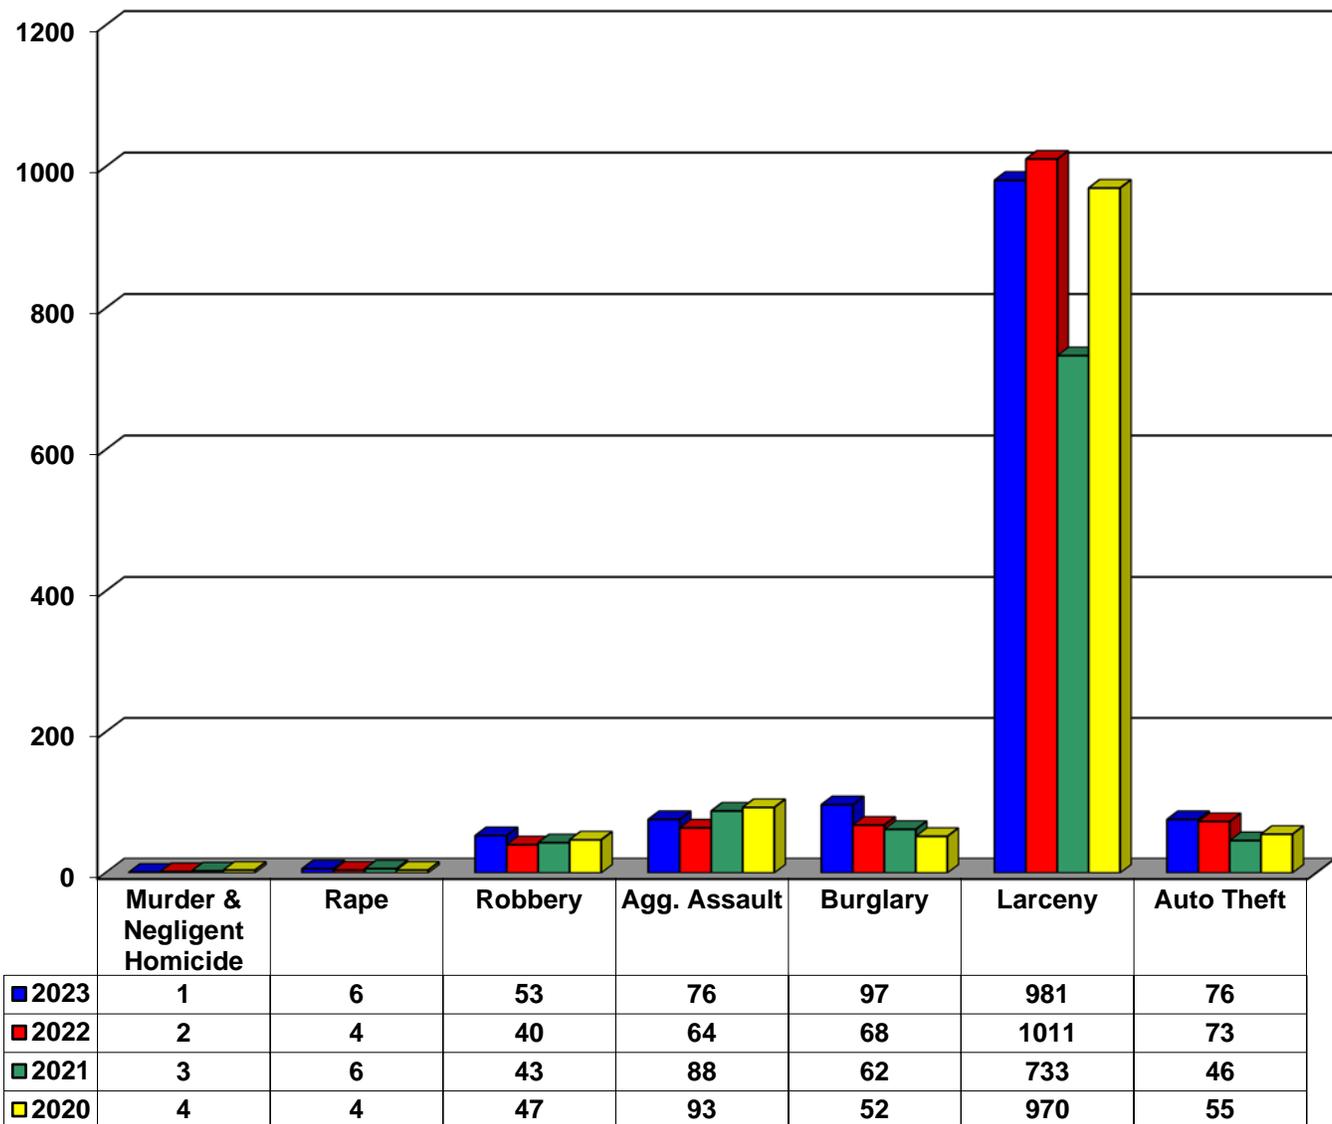

We recognize that our behavior must reflect honesty, sincerity, and accountability. If the law is to be honored, those who enforce it must first honor it.

¹ In 2013 the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniformed Crime Report expanded the definition of Rape, which remains different than the definition used by New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. The Federal Bureau of Investigation definition is now reflected in the above graph. The ten-year comparison includes conflicting definitions.

² The FBI has mandated that all reporting agencies transition from the Uniform Crime Reporting to Incident Based Reporting. This transition was mandated to occur prior to 2021 and in 2019 New Rochelle changed their reporting style to conform with Incident Based Reporting. This creates a change in the way data is reported based upon the Hierarchy rule which requires that only the most serious offense in a case be counted.

Special Operations Unit

The Special Operations Unit is supervised by Lieutenant David Lonergan and is divided into two subunits: Critical Incident Unit and the Harbor Unit.

Critical Incident Unit

The Critical Incident Unit is comprised of three teams. A sergeant, four police officers and a K-9 unit, made up of a police officer and a trained police dog, staff each team. Responsibilities include: supplement the patrol unit, respond to calls of emotionally disturbed persons, respond to critical incidents, and perform tactical entries and K-9 response to burglary scenes, lost person investigations and weapon recoveries.

Harbor Unit

The Harbor Unit is a seasonal unit, staffed by a sergeant, three police officers and four assistant harbormasters. The unit patrols the waters of the Long Island Sound, enforcing navigation laws and promoting boater safety.

Traffic Unit

Lieutenant Justin Wilson, the Executive Officer of Police Services Division supervises the following. A sergeant, one detective and three police officers are assigned to this unit. The Traffic Unit has five subunits: Taxi Licensing, School Crossing Guards, Parking Enforcement, City Code Enforcement and Fleet Management.

Members of the Traffic unit are responsible for the following:

Sergeant reviews all accident reports filed by members of the Department, as well as supervising parking enforcement officers, ordinance officers and school crossing guards; Investigation of personal injury and fatal auto accidents, hit and run accidents, city property accidents; selective enforcement of the vehicle and traffic law and the coordination of funeral, parade and special demonstration escorts.

New Rochelle Police Department

Taxi Licensing Unit

The Taxi Licensing Unit is staffed by a sworn member and is responsible for the issuance of all taxi licenses and medallions. Registration of drivers and vehicle inspections are conducted annually.

School Crossing Guards

School Crossing Guards are assigned to key intersections near schools for the purpose of assisting elementary school children to safely cross those intersections.

Parking Enforcement Unit

The Parking Enforcement Unit is comprised of community service officers who provide parking enforcement throughout the city and facilitate the free flow of automobile and pedestrian traffic in the downtown district of the city. Coverage is provided 7 days a week from 8:00 a.m. through Midnight.

City Code Enforcement Unit

The City Code Enforcement Unit is responsible for the enforcement of city code violations, including vehicle and traffic law statutes pertaining to abandoned vehicles.

Fleet Management

An officer assigned to the Police Services Division fills this position, which oversees the purchase and maintenance of vehicles, as well as installation of equipment in vehicles.

New Rochelle Police Department

Quality Assurance Unit

Lieutenant Edward Hayes and Lieutenant Robert Wenzler oversee the Quality Assurance Unit. The unit periodically conducts inspections and reviews of specific areas of the Department for the following reasons: Determine compliance with established policies and procedures to identify problem areas and opportunities for improvement that will, through training, positively enhance the Department's performance; Promote a method of operation to improve the quality and consistency of performance throughout the Department by using evaluations and a support system, which includes training, guidance and follow-up review. This is accomplished through the use of specified areas of evaluation. These areas include, but are not limited to: incidents, confiscated vehicles and auctions, summonses, evidence and found property, off-duty employment, sick time, traffic court appearances, and video of bookings.

The Quality Assurance Unit evaluates these specified areas, and as training needs are identified, improves the performance of the Department. These evaluations are conducted on a regular basis to ensure that the quality of performance attained is continued.

Captain Molina, Deputy Commissioner Reynolds, Captain Coyne, Captain Rodriguez, Police Commissioner Gazzola, Captain Torr.

Criminal Investigations Division

The Criminal Investigations Division is organized under the command of Captain J.C. Coyne and is divided into six units: General Investigations Unit, Property Theft Unit, Special Investigations Unit, Forensic Unit and the Warrant Unit and the Community Resource Coordinator.

The division is responsible for the following functions:

- Prevention of Crime
- Detection and Arrest of Criminals
- Recovery of Lost and Stolen Property
- Location of Missing Persons
- Maintenance of Criminal Identification Files
- Civilian Identification for Governmental Licenses and Permits

Detective Lieutenant Brian Fagan is the Executive Officer of the Criminal Investigations Division and is responsible for overseeing the five Units of this division and the Community Resource Coordinator.

General Investigations Unit

The General Investigations Unit is supervised by a Lieutenant and is staffed by detective personnel. The unit is responsible for the investigation of all crimes committed against persons, accidental and suspicious death investigations, and non-criminal administrative investigations.

Property Theft Unit

The Property Theft Unit is supervised by a Criminal Investigations Division Detective Sergeant and is staffed by detective personnel. The unit is responsible for investigating property related crimes.

Special Investigations Unit

The Special Investigations Unit is supervised by a Criminal Investigations Division Detective Sergeant and is staffed by detective personnel assigned to the division. The unit has the responsibility for investigating violations of the law pertaining to controlled substances, prostitution, gambling, and the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Forensic Unit

The Forensic Unit is staffed by a Criminal Investigations Division Detective Sergeant and two detectives during weekday business hours. The Forensic Unit performs the following functions: fingerprint arrested persons, process crime scenes for physical evidence, maintain criminal identification records, and provide photographic services to the Department for criminal and non-criminal incidents.

New Rochelle Police Department

Warrant Unit

The warrant officer receives criminal warrants from the city court. Upon receipt of the warrant, the warrant officer completes numerous duties related to the tracking and disposition of these warrants.

Community Resource Coordinator

The Community Resource Coordinator is a detective who reports directly to the commander of the Criminal Investigations Division. She provides crisis intervention services to residents experiencing serious family and personal problems. This is accomplished through information, referral and counseling.

Staff Services Division

The Staff Services Division is organized under the command of Captain Robert Torr. It provides the Department with the many auxiliary services it needs in order to operate efficiently and effectively. The Division is divided into seven units. They are the: Records Unit, Property and Evidence Unit, Alarm Monitoring Unit, Communications Unit, Court Liaison Unit, the Information Systems Unit and the Discovery Unit.

Lieutenant Robert LaBarbera is the Executive Officer of the Staff Services Division who oversees the seven units comprising the Staff Services Division.

Records Unit

This Unit is responsible for performing numerous administrative functions. These functions are multifaceted. Warrants, subpoenas, and other court orders are processed and disseminated by the unit. The unit processes requests from law enforcement agencies and private organizations seeking background checks on prospective employees. The unit processes and manages the information and paperwork generated by police services activities. The unit also operates the Public Service Window, and further serves as the Department's personnel section.

Property and Evidence Unit

The Property Clerk Unit maintains control over all lost, stolen, abandoned and recovered property, and property identified as evidence.

Alarm Monitoring Unit

The Alarm Monitoring Unit is responsible for enforcement of the various provisions of the City of New Rochelle Alarm Systems ordinance.

Communications Unit

The Communications Unit of the Department receives and manages requests for Police, Fire and Emergency Medical Service. A combination of police and civilian personnel perform the line functions of ERS operators, NYSPIN operators, police dispatchers and desk employees.

Court Liaison Unit

The Court Liaison Unit provides prisoner escorts between the cellblocks and the courts. The unit also reports the court's activities and performs clerical duties as they relate to police operations.

Information Systems Unit

The Information Systems Unit is responsible for providing information services that facilitate the efficient gathering and dissemination of timely, accurate and complete information in a useable form to the members of the Department. Specifically, the unit acquires, distributes, installs and maintains: Local Area Networks, Personal Computers, Hardware, Software and Data Communications Networks.

New Rochelle Police Department

Discovery Unit

The Discovery Unit, developed in 2020, functions in response to new legislation regarding Criminal Procedure Laws and its impact on court discovery requirements. This Unit complies and forwards all documents associated with an arrest to the appropriate courts for them to disseminate as required by the new laws.

Internal Affairs Unit

Lieutenant Robert Wenzler, who reports directly to the Police Commissioner, staffs the Internal Affairs Unit (IAU). The IAU Lieutenant is responsible for the investigation of all complaints regarding police Department employees. The complaints may be generated internally or externally.

Internal complaints are generated by Supervisory personnel when subordinate personnel fail to comply with Department rules, regulations, guidelines, policies, or by the IAU Lieutenant through his inspections and investigations concerning employee compliance with rules, regulations, guidelines, and policies.

External complaints are complaints about police conduct that are generated by individuals who are not members of the Department. These types of complaints normally involve allegations of improper conduct on the part of police employees or questionable procedures. Regardless of the source, seriousness or apparent lack of seriousness of the complaint, each complaint is thoroughly investigated by the IAU Lieutenant.

In addition to the investigation of complaints, the IAU Lieutenant conducts investigations as directed by the Police Commissioner and all incidents where officers have discharged their weapons or where prisoners have been injured. The IAU Lieutenant acts as liaison in civil cases between the Department and city attorneys, insurance companies, and their respective investigators. He conducts interviews of Department employees and witnesses, and researches and retrieves reports and photos for a defense of these cases. He testifies as a representative of the Police Department in order to enter official documents into evidence and performs all duties that are necessary to accommodate the proceedings and ensure the integrity of the Department.

New Rochelle Police Foundation

The New Rochelle Police Foundation is a non-profit organization, which funds, assists and undertakes programs to strengthen the services and professionalism of the New Rochelle Police Department. Through this partnership, the Foundation stands ready to assist the New Rochelle Police to better serve our city and, in doing so, make the Department one of the most admired in the country.

The New Rochelle Police Foundation recognizes the need to meet new challenges in law enforcement today, tomorrow and in the 21st century as the police profession continues to grow, change and adapt to new technologies and other developments.

The cost of training and equipment for the New Rochelle Police Department to respond effectively to a wide range of social problems far exceeds the tax dollars committed to law enforcement. For organizations like the New Rochelle Police Department to maintain a distinction of excellence in the services they provide, private sector assistance is needed. The following are some of the programs, activities and equipment sponsored by the New Rochelle Police Foundation:
